

Veterans To Hold Annual Installation

Sixth annual joint mass installation honoring the newly elected post and auxiliary officers of the Fourth district Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be held Saturday evening, April 7, at 8 p.m., in the Municipal auditorium on Ocean boulevard in Long Beach.

Approximately 30 posts and 20 auxiliaries will take part in the colorful ceremonies.

Post officers to be installed are: Clifford Boots, Commander; Corneleous Doyle, senior vice; James McVay, junior vice; Arthur S. Moore, chaplain; Robert Riggs, quartermaster; Alfred Verrine, surgeon; and George Spaulding, advocate.

Trustees to be installed are: Harold Boots, one year; Joe Furgulville, two years; and Paul Crossman, three years.

Other officers will be: John Hunt, adjutant; Ernie Slabotsky, service officer; Cy Weber, patriotic instructor; Lee Muhleck, legislative officer; and Bud Licht, officer of the day.

Timothy J. Murphy, national commander-in-chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, will be installing officer for the newly elected post officers.

The public is welcome to attend the installation, and there will be no admission charge, mander of the Fourth district.

Preceding the mass installation, a banquet will be held in the Pagan room of the Wilton hotel at 6 p.m.

Robert P. Clancey, general chairman for the installation, announced that the opening will be made by the El Toro Marine band, which will be followed by drill teams, bands, members of the armed forces, and marching units of the Southland.

After installation, a dance will be held at the hotel in honor of the newly elected post commanders and auxiliary presidents who will lead the grand march.

Council Held By Woodcraft Ranger Boys

Woodcraft Rangers South District Grand Council held at Gardena junior high school was attended by 530 Woodcraft Rangers, their families and friends.

Grand Council is presented annually by the children of the various tribes for the purpose of further acquainting the parent with what Woodcraft Rangers is doing for his youngster in the field of youth-service.

Tom Garrity, age 10, of Norwalk, was presented with the 5th and highest rank of the Little Lodge, the Trail Blazer rank. He is the first ranger in two years to claim this rank in the South District.

Colorfully painted framed Tribal Charters were given to all tribes with over 12 registered members. Many tribes could be recognized by the bright tribal totems and flags, made especially for this occasion by the tribal members during the craft sessions of their weekly meetings.

The South District advisory board awarded the attendance trophy to Mike Weisman's Fighting Eagles Tribe for their record attendance of 97 tribal members, parents and friends. Ben Cogswell's Chickasaw Tribe took second place with an attendance of 40.

Muscoki Tribe, with Mrs. Ginger Henderson as guide, was in 3rd place with 37 representatives.

Entertainment was provided by Mrs. J. F. Gensley's Ocean Braves Tribe and the Wetomach Tribe with Wes Thatcher as guide.

READING 30 YEARS WITH GP

C. M. Reading, manager of the engineering department at General Petroleum corporation's Torrance refinery, marked 30 years of service with that company on March 8.

Reading joined General Petroleum as an engineer in 1926, and except for his World War II service, has worked in the engineering department continuously.

He was appointed assistant construction engineer in 1945 and assistant manager of the engineering department in 1947. He has held his present post since 1949 and makes his headquarters at Torrance.

A native of Salt Lake City, Utah, Reading graduated from the U. S. Military Academy at West Point and taught school for two years before coming to General Petroleum.

Reading served with the U. S. Army in World War II from 1941 to 1945, emerging with the rank of colonel.

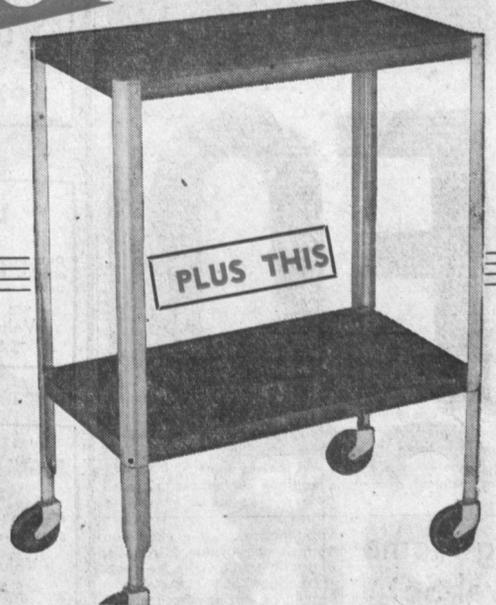

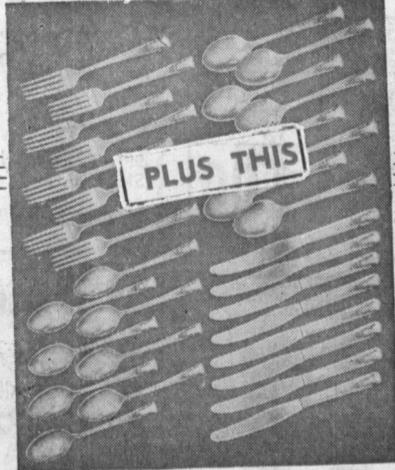

He is a member of the American Petroleum Institute and the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce.
